

JESSIE GABRIEL | SHORT BIO

Jessie stepped down as an equity partner and head of the Investment Funds practice at a major law firm in 2020 to launch All Places, a business and legal strategy firm seeking to create a more equitable world by actively helping women from all backgrounds and industries grow their business without limits. All Places is the only firm in the country focused primarily on female asset managers and entrepreneurs. In less than a year, the firm's client roster has grown to include trailblazing consumer brands like Tâche, Omsom, Rosy, Elims, and Lady Falcon Coffee Club, and funds like MPowered Capital, Turning Rock Partners, SoGal Ventures, Supply Change Capital, and Growth Warrior Capital, all led by women.

Jessie received her B.A. in economics from Dartmouth College and her J.D. cum laude from the University of Michigan Law School, where she was elected to the Order of the Coif, won the Campbell Moot Court Competition, and served as Executive Editor of the Michigan Journal of Race and Law. She currently serves on (and formerly chaired) the Board of New Destiny Housing, a non-profit organization that builds beautiful, affordable, permanent housing for families that have survived domestic violence, and serves on the Board of the New America Alliance, an organization that advocates for the Latinx asset management community.
